See upon what a slim, yet desperate, excuse the sacred lives of millions may be sacrificed. Read the history of the past one hundred years, as written by one of the greatest authorities the world has ever known, and learn the naked, shameful truth. Duruy's History of the World

Four splendid cloth volumes, full of portraits, sketches, maps, diagrams

Today is the climax of a hundred years of preparation. Read in this timely, authoritative, complete, AND THE ONLY CONDENSED classic world history—of which over 2,000,000 copies have been sold in France alone—just what has taken place in the inner councils of Europe during the past one hundred years. Read in these entrancing pages how Russia has for years craftily been trying to escape from her darkness—to get a year-round open port, with its economic freedom. Read how Germany and Austria, fearful of the monster's latent strength, have been trying to checkmate her and how they have pinned all in this last, supreme stake.

The Lesson of the Past

THIS master of the pen shows you the story that was Greece's and the grandeur that was Rome's. He guides you through the Middle Ages, the picturesque old days of feudalism and the crusades, through the Renaissance up to contemporary history, which Prof. Duruy outlines in brilliant manner. In the story of the past lie the secrets of today. And you will understand them better when you get the Review of Reviews for a year—for the Review of Reviews will give you a sane interpretation of the events that are taking place with such rapidity. It is not enough to read the daily news reports. Your ability to comprehend conditions, and to discuss them rationally depends on a true interpretation of the meaning and the reasons why "it" is. In your mind you must bring order out of chaos—and the Review of Reviews will do it for you.

DO YOU UPSET YOUR WATCH?

If You Are Nervous, You Are Apt to "Get Its Goat," Though Nobody Knows Why.

One of the troubles of watchmakers is the man who gets on his watch's nerves. There are lots of customers on whom a good watch is wasted. A good second-hand watch that has kept perfect time for other people will, with certain other people, go irregularly when it is not standing still. It is common knowledge in the trade that watches are greatly influenced by their owners.

Nobody knows the reason, but two explanations have been offered. One is that watches are sensitive to personal magnetism, the natural electricity that human beings contain in varying quantities.

The other is that a watch may be disturbed by the vibrations set up by a footstep which is heavier than the ordinary. The man who puts his heels down heavily usually needs to set the regulator toward slow to keep it from gaining.

One of the mysterious sides of the subject is that watches seldom keep good time on people of nervous, excitable temperaments. — Pearson's Weekly.

TWO MORALS TO THIS STORY

Different From the Ordinary Fable, It Is Worth Giving Some Little Consideration.

There was once a man who thought that the business in which he was employed could get along without him. He would sometimes say:

"Yes, I work hard and probably contribute something to the profits; still I guess if you had to you could do without me, all right."

And again: "A good many men think they are indispensable. They get the idea that the wheels would stop if they weren't around. That's a wrong idea. I know a great deal better than that."

One day the head of the firm sent for this young man and said:

"You have given me an idea. I have heard you say so often that the business could get along without you, and it has had such a psychological effect upon me that I am willing to take you at your word and save your wages. Here is your envelope. Good-by."

Morals—Of which there are two, and you may take your choice.

The first one is: Modesty is pretty likely to be its own reward.

The second: It doesn't always pay to advertise.—Life.

"The Days That Are No More."

The power of first love has received so much poetic attention that we can afford to smile at the serio-comic twist that John P., an ancient Rhode Island worthy, once gave it. The old gentleman's habits and manners were as primitive as the time at which he lived. John P. married twice. On his second wedding journey, he visited a business acquaintance in a Massachusetts town. On his arrival, he presented his bride in this graceful way: "This," said he, is Miss P. Tain't 't'her Miss P. I wish 'twas."—Youth's Companion.

Theory and Practice.

The difference between theory and practice is shown when the whole family goes off to attend a humane congress and leaves the cat to starve in the cellar.—Washington Post.

Dialect of Croatia.

The dialect spoken by the Croats is practically the same as that spoken by the Servians, but, while the latter use the Cyrillic (Russian) alphabet, the former employ the Latin. Croatia and Slavonia form, together with their former military frontier, a crown land belonging to the Hungarian section of Austria lying between the Adriatic sea, on the southwest, where Croatia has a seaboard of about 84 miles, and Hungary, on the northeast. The Croats (originally Chorvats, mountaineers—from chora or gora, a mountain) are tall and strong, honest, and good-natured. Croatia sends deputies to the Hungarian diet, and there must, by special convention, always be a Croatian in the Hungarian ministry.

Whenever You Need a General Tonic Take Grove's

Leopard at Large in Mountains.

A full grown leopard on its way from Germany to a menagerie in Italy escaped from the train at Lecco, on the Swiss-Italian frontier and took to the mountains. Italian gendarmes and several sportsmen armed with rifles and assisted by dogs climbed through a forest without finding any trace of the leopard, which seems to have taken refuge on the higher slopes of the neighboring mountains, and will be a menace to the woodcutters when it finds no food.

She Knew What She Meant.

Little Mary had just returned from an afternoon party. "Oh, mamma," she exclaimed, "just think, I had ice cream three times in congestion!"

The Quinine That Does Not Affect The Head Because of its tonic and laxative effect, LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE is better than ordinary Quinine and does not cause nervousness nor ringing in head. Remember the full name and look for the signature of H. W. GROVE, Inc.
